The copyright law of the United States (Title 17, U.S. Code) governs the making of photocopies or other reproductions of copyright material. Under certain conditions specified in the law, libraries and archives are authorized to furnish a photocopy or other reproduction. One of these specified conditions is that the photocopy or reproduction is not to be "used for any purpose other than private study, scholarship or research." If a user makes a request for, or later uses, a photocopy or reproduction for purposes in excess of "fair use" or violates this agreement, that user may be liable for copyright and/or contract infringement. This institution reserves the right to refuse to accept a copying order if, in its judgment, fulfillment of the order would be in violation of the copyright law.
